Annexation

"It will be the greatest benefit to all of us and there is no sound argument against this merging and pooling of our interests." This statement by H. A. Johnston, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce in a letter to the citizens of the Annex, sums up in a few words why Richmond is ready with open arms to receive the annex within its limits and why the annex should be ready to become a part of the city of Richmond.

Some months ago, Wilbur S. Pierce, local attorney, was awarded the cup for the best address before a meeting held in the Oakland Auditorium, which was attended by representatives of every eastbay city and the keynote of that winning talk was "one big city on this side of the bay."

It is one big city at the present time even though it may function under a half dozen or more governments.
The annex has much to gain by becoming a part of the city of Richmond, and the city of Richmond has just as much to gain by having the annex a part of the city.
It is true the taxes which will collect in that part of the city will not be great. Probably not enough for all the improvements which will have to be made there at once.
The city council has practically pledged itself to spend 100 cents of every dollar collected there for improvements in that section.

The person however, who looks at it only in this respect is looking at the thing in a selfish manner.
The addition of the 300 voters of that district to Richmond with families, homes and payroll they represent mean a great deal more than the immediate revenue to be derived from taxation.

The Annex will gain at once adequate fire and police protection, use of the program for streets, park and playgrounds of the city, proper street lighting and many other things too numerous to mention.

Richmond will gain a section which should rightfully be a part of this city and many other things which will prove of great advantage within the next few years.

"By cooperating under one municipality the west end of Contra Costa county will be able in the next quarter century to accomplish results which will make the record of the past 25 years look insignificant."

MITCHELL GETS HEAVY SENTENCE

WORLD COURT BATTLE STARTS IN U. S. SENATE

SWANSON OF VIRGINIA IS LEADING FIGHT

Swanson States America's Interests Will Force Her Into The League

WOMEN'S LOBBY PRESENT

Sets Forth Advantages of Entering League In Speech Taking Three Hours

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The fight to secure the entrance of the United States into the World Court of the League of Nations began today in the Senate, where the opening gun of the World Court advocate was fired by Senator Claude Swanson of Virginia, one of the leading champions of America's entrance into the League of Nations. The speech was three hours long.

Senator Swanson expressed his desire that the United States, after joining the World Court, should join the League of Nations, and his conviction that America's interests would force her into the league.

Extended discussion of entering the league, however, he considers "ill-timed" at present because "the United States has determined not to enter the League and there is no proposition pending before the Senate for this purpose."

A crowd of feminine sympathizers with the Court, constituting a "women's lobby" descended upon the Senate an hour before it convened and took possession of the galleries. They filled every available seat, crowding out the men, while hundreds waited in long line outside the galleries in the hope of eventually getting in to hear the debate.

Among those in the "women's lobby" who looked down upon the Senate were delegations from the National Federation of Women's Clubs, the League of Women Voters and the Women's International League of Peace and Freedom.

GOVERNOR AT L. A. QUIZ

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—For the purpose of substantiating his recent charges of protection given bunco gangs and individuals in Los Angeles by officials of that city, Governor Richardson left today for Los Angeles to appear before the grand jury of Los Angeles county on Friday afternoon.

Fletcher Brown, executive to the governor, accompanied his chief and may assist in submitting data to the grand jury. Brown reviewed the case of E. A.
Hutchings, notorious bunco operator, for the governor prior to revocation of his parole.

E. E. GROW TO ATTEND MEET OF INSPECTORS

The conference of building inspectors from throughout central California at Berkeley city hall today and tomorrow will be attended by E. E. Grow, city building inspector of Richmond. The conference has been called for the purpose of making a tentative draft of a universal building code which has been prepared by the Pacific Coast organization. The session has been called by A. C.
Hornor, chairman of the central district of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' conference.

Score another for the flapper.
Evidently she is not so thoughtless as some of her critics would try to make us believe. It fashion designers will insist upon making her wear short skirts, she must protect herself against wintry blasts. Hence knee muffs. The ones shown above are of mink

ELKS CHARITY SHOW CAST ARE DINNER GUESTS

The cast of 60 characters and directors of the Richmond Elks annual charity show staged two weeks ago, were the honored guests at a dinner and dance in the clubrooms last night. James M. Stewart, committee head on the show, was in charge of last night's event and Dennis Shaw's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Caldwell, of San Francisco, who spent much time in directing the show and to whom a large amount of the credit for the success of the affair is given by the committee, were the guests of honor.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and from 9 o'clock until midnight dancing was the diversion.

Pittsburg Has New Police Head

PITTSBURG, Dec. 17.—As part of a program of re-organization outlined by City Manager Roy A.
Watkins, Paul Patterson was today appointed captain of police to replace Charles Scudero, who has been installed as fire marshal. Although he will not be active in criminal cases, Watkins said, Scudero will continue to be connected with the police department.

Watkins declared that Scudero's removal as police captain was no reflection on his record as he has been an efficient and competent man. He would still be police captain if it were not for the fact that he was overburdened with the various duties, Watkins added.

There are a lot of men who would like to be sixty-two years paying their debts.—Omaha World-Herald.

ANNEXATION VOTE TO BE HELD TODAY

Today the voters of Richmond Annex will go to the polls to vote upon annexation to Richmond. The election was called by the Richmond City Council upon petition of Residents of the Annex and if the majority of voters decide to enter Richmond, the annexation will be completed by ordinance of the Richmond City council.

A good sized vote is expected as the matter has been brought to the attention of all voters in the district. The polling place is at Donald Prydes garage and the polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

A good sized majority for the annexation is expected by those who have been working upon the election. All voters are urged to go to the polls and express their opinion of the ballot.

Battle Starts For Child's Possession

Fight for possession of a 10-months-old illegitimate child began the other day with a $400,000 trust fund as the prize. Deaconess Anita Hodgkin, head of St. Margo's School of Social Service, Berkeley, and two bankers and attorneys of Boston, Mass., claim the child. Deaconess Hodgkin adopted the baby from a Los Angeles hospital four days before its mother's death and took it to her home. She was granted adoption papers and was appointed guardian. Dennis E. Bowman, Los Angeles attorney, representing H.
F. G. Dolan and Charles T. Hargton, bankers and attorneys of Boston, Mass., claim that previous to the adoption by Miss Hodgkin they were made legal guardians of the baby by the probate court of Norfolk, Mass. According to the petition the child was born to Lorania Beckwith of February 20, 1925, at a hospital in Los Angeles. With the mother's death, a $400,000 trust fund left her by her father, W. L. Beckwith, would presumably pass to the child, whose father is unknown, and there being no other close relatives.

De Moss Death Was Accidental

Elmer De Moss, 15 year old Richmond high school boy, residing at Pinole was killed on November 29, accidentally due to being struck by Southern Pacific passenger train No. 8, near Pinole.
This was the verdict returned by the jury in the inquest conducted last night at Pinole by Coroner Charles F. Connelly. No responsibility was placed.

Young De Moss was returning from a hunting trip in the woods near Pinole and was walking down the railroad tracks. He stepped out of the path of a freight train and directly onto the tracks, of an onrushing passenger. He was thrown several feet and was instantly killed.

Bishop Injured When Car Skids

H. E. Bishop, 320 Twenty-fifth street, sustained deep cuts about the face, forehead and left leg at about 12 o'clock last night when his Dodge roadster skidded on the wet pavement at Twenty-third and Bush streets, near San Pablo, and crashed into a telephone pole.

The injured man was brought to the Emergency hospital by Wallace Snelgrove, contractor of Richmond, where it was found that wounds were superficial. The car was almost a total wreck.

in a cesspool. The crime was not discovered until almost a year later when the Zamora's left four children with them. They have only one child with them, decorated last night and other arrangements were completed for at 7:30 tonight a regular Christmas spirit will greet the Scots

A special request has been sent out by the committee to bring the children to the party.

A Christmas program headed ly suited for the occasion.

ing industrially for the past few ments for the party. Besides

Bridge Hearing To Be Resumed

The public hearing which the War Department of the United States began on December 11, on the subject of the construction of bridges and tubes across San Francisco bay, will be continued by the District Engineer John W.
N. Schulz, on December 18, in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors, City Hall, San Francisco, at 9 o'clock a. m.

This meeting is to submit additional information and evidence, together with new and modified designs. All parties particularly interested in navigation and the officials of any county, city, town or local association, whose interests may be affected by the construction of the proposed crossing, are expected to attend the meeting.

Colonel Mitchell Stormy Petrel Of Air Force Sentenced By Court

Colonel William Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell leaving the building in Washington where his court-martial was in session several days ago.

Mitchell Sentence Most Unusual In History Of United States Army Since The Civil War

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The sentence imposed upon Colonel Mitchell was the most unusual since the civil war.

Although not holding rank or receiving a cent of pay or even being provided with quarters for five years, he will at all times be at the orders of the War Department, compelled to go wherever it deems best to send him.
If he wears the uniform it must be without insignia of rank.

The longest period of such sentence heretofore imposed is said to have six months. The motive that actuated the court to imposed is said to have been six months. The motive that actuated the court to impose such a sentence in preference to dismissal is said to have been that Colonel Mitchell was the recipient of the Distinguished Service Cross, the War Department decoration for gallantry in action.

Members of the court could not bring themselves to dismiss, it is understood, the recipient of the War Department's highest honor.
At the same time it was pointed out tonight the verdict enables the War Department to keep Colonel Mitchell under its thumb, that is so far as Colonel Mitchell can be kept under any thumb.

prey Wilson, Fred Caudle and G.
N. Rucker.

Two of these nine new directors will be selected by the board to serve the unexpired terms of two resigned directors the next year and the remaining seven will serve for three years. The nine new directors will take office at the first meeting in January and at that time the new officers of the chamber will be appointed.

Local Dairies Are Being Inspected

The semi-annual inspection of dairies in the vicinity of Richmond is now being made by Dr.
R. E. Duckworth, inspector for the state department of agriculture. Dr. Duckworth intends to weed out all cattle that show signs of being tubercular. He will inspect approximately 200 cows here and is being assisted by Dr. R. R. Root, city veterinarian.

SUSPENDED FROM RANK PAY STOPS

Sentence Follows Close On Guilty Decision Of Court-Martial

PRESIDENT TO REVIEW CASE

President Or Secretary Of War Have Authority To Cut
Sentence

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Col.
William Mitchell late today was sentenced to be suspended from his command and his rank with forfeiture of pay for five years by the court-martial jury that a few hours previously had found him guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and prejudicial to good order and military discipline in connection with his attacks on the administration of the air service by the war and navy departments.
Mitchell said he would have no comment to make until after the President had reviewed the proceedings, which is customary in court-martials.

While the court deliberated, Mitchell talked with Forrest Curry, son of Representative Charles Curry, Republican of California, sponsor of a unified air service bill in Congress.
Mitchell's face showed signs of the strain of the trial. He appeared more aged and his face was deeply lined.

He refuses to be downhearted.

Deranged Veteran Kills L. A. Man

By FRANK E. MASON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Carl H. Kaufman, prominent automobile accessory manufacturer of this city was slain here today by W. S. Hobert, demented war veteran as he prayed on his knees that his life might be spared.
Kaufman's body was riddled with bullets from an old army rifle used by Hobert.

Passing automobilists sent hurried calls to police. When the officers reached the scene they found Hobert calmly seated in Kaufman's machine.

The deranged veteran was unable to give reason for taking the life of a man he had never seen before.

Hobert said that he had recently escaped from a Veterans hospital at Compton after he had been moved there from Norwalk Asylum.

LOCARNO DIMS GLORY OF LEAGUE

Great Britain, through the treaty of Locarno, assumed the leadership in European affairs, scrapped the Geneva protocol and sent the League of Nations back into the corner, according to Albert H. Laidlaw, in the current number of the National Republic. Among other things Mr. Laidlaw says:

Having scrapped the Geneva protocol of arbitration, security and disarmament by her refusal to ratify it, thus further weakening the inherently weak league of nations, Great Britain, by her diplomacy at the Locarno conference has relegated the league into the second class as an instrumentality of European peace and security, and has set up in place of it a first class instrument more responsive to the fine Britannic hand which fashioned it and will control it. The security treaties negotiated at Locarno restore Great Britain to her old place of dominance, reestablish the Concert of Europe which the World War had thrown into a discord of wild jazz, and give a very strong hope if not unqualified assurance, of another substantially durable period of harmony under the baton of a venerable and experienced conductor commonly known as John Bull.

"Preceded by the Dawes plan as the first approximately practicable step in the direction of economic rehabilitation in Europe, the arbitration and security treaties just concluded at Locarno are the first approximately practicable moves in the direction of a lasting peace among the great powers of Europe since the armistice of 1918. It would be a foolhardy prophesy to say that these treaties mean perpetual peace for Europe, but it is perfectly reasonable to hope and to expect that, by reason of them, the world's next great war is, to say the least, remote. Wars have not ended and only fools and blind men expect them to be ended. . . . But the peril of another cataclysm has been reduced to a minimum; British reconciliation not merely with Germany, but with France, witnesses the enthronement of a real balance of power and that is the best peace guaranty Europe can have this side of that millennial era of the invisible future when men cease to be men and become instead, lambkins or angels."

OUTRAGED PUBLIC OPINION NECESSARY

Forest fires swept 29,000,000 acres of public and private lands in 1925, causing a loss of $38,000,000, it is estimated by the forest service.

The number of forest fires was fixed at 92,000, which was 24,000 more fires than in 1923, and 45,000 more than the 9-year average.

Money damage in 1924 was estimated at $10,000,000 more than in 1923, and $18,000,000 higher than the 9-year average. The estimate doesn't include damage to young plant growth, watershed protection, wild life or recreational areas.

On the national forest areas alone 8,237 fires were reported as sweeping 20,000 acres, with a money loss of $1,500,000.

William B. Greeley, chief of the forest service, declared the increase in reported fires was due partly to more complete reports, although he termed 1924 as a "very bad year."

"The greatest single agency with which to combat forest fires is public opinion," he said. "The federal and state governments are doing their utmost with the funds and equipment allotted them. It is high time that a more effective weapon is placed at their disposal and that weapon is an outraged opinion."

Some Pages from American History

By VICTOR MORGAN

THE discovery claims of the Norse, however, are not based entirely upon questionable traces of habitation left in America.

The sagas form another record. These sagas were stories told by eye-witnesses and handed on from father to son and so on down generation after generation. Naturally the sagas are a mixture of legend, tradition and history. Perhaps they have been added to or detracted from as they were passed along. However, it was a serious offense to make a change in a saga.

The sagas were supposed to be a record of historical events up to the time written language came into use. Then the sagas were collected and set down in writing with all possible accuracy.

Sagas dealing with the discovery of America are found in written records made before 1400. Hence strength for the discovery claims of the Norse is derived from this source and is pretty generally accepted.

The leading authority on the sagas is Professor Karl Christian Rafn, a Danish scholar. He gathered material from more than a score of sources and wrote a colossal volume on the history revealed by these ancient sources. Among these sagas are several complete descriptions of voyages to America and discoveries made there, and a number of them make references to recent incidents.

Professor Rafn's best established to the satisfaction of most scholars the claim that the Norse, Viking, Eric the Red, discovered Greenland and that his son, Leif Ericson, otherwise known as Leif the Lucky, discovered America about the year 1000.

Eric was a man of parts. Besides being a first-class explorer and a colonizer he seems to have had the instincts of a good real estate salesman.

When he announced Greenland as the name of the new island he had discovered, someone asked:

"Why Greenland?"

To which Eric replied: "Colonists will be attracted here if the land has a good name."

Leif Ericson called the land which he had discovered "Vinland" because he found grapes growing wild.

Rhode Island and other states in New England have claimed the honor of having been the regions touched by Leif. There is a statue to Ericson in Boston.

Next installment about the first white child born in America.

OURSELVES AND INDUSTRY

By W. O. Scroggs

Most of us can remember as far back as twenty years ago, and a few moments of recollection will bring to mind the amazing increase that has taken place during this time in the amount and variety of goods within reach of the average individual.

Twenty years ago there was only one automobile for every 2,000 persons; now there is one for every seven persons. In 1910 we were amazed to learn that approximately a thousand phonographs were made in this country every day; yet by 1920 we were producing over 7,000 a day. Since then the phonograph has been supplemented by the radio, and the rapid increase in the number of radio sets has been even more striking.

All this goes to show that the productivity of our industries has been increasing much more rapidly than our population. This means that there are now more goods available for the use and enjoyment of the average man.

Along with this increased output and greater abundance of desirable goods there is now much more time available for their enjoyment. In the past twenty years the average length of the working day in representative industries has been shortened by at least an hour.

This increase in both leisure and luxuries has been made possible by improvements in production. In George Washington's time the methods of raising materials for food and clothing were so crude that most die-hard workers had to be tillers of the soil. About nine men out of every ten were then farmers. Today only about one man in three is a farmer, and yet we are not suffering from lack of things produced on the farm. On the contrary, for part of the time since the Great War our farmers have been raising more than could be profitably consumed.

Moreover, the output of our farms has improved in quality as well as in quantity. Better livestock and better fruit and potatoes are raised now than a generation ago. Such progress has been accomplished by more scientific methods of production, including the use of modern farm machinery. Many other lines of industry have benefited from the use of modern farm machinery. Many other lines of industry have

One Automobile for 2,000 Persons: Now there is one for every seven persons. In 1910 we were amazed to learn that approximately a thousand phonographs were made in this country every day; yet by 1920 we were producing over 7,000 a day. Since then the phonograph has been supplemented by the radio, and the rapid increase in the number of radio sets has been even more striking.

All this goes to show that the productivity of our industries has been increasing much more rapidly than our population. This means that there are now more goods available for the use and enjoyment of the average man.

Indian, Dutch, English and American New York FARMS OF 1670 NOW BEAR SKYSCRAPERS

A reproduction of one of 150 murals in the Ter-Centenary Exhibit of New York, which will continue until 1926, at Wanaamakers.

It's a brave blade of grass, a resilient tree that survives the life of New York today. Yet about 250 years ago everything was forest and swamp and farm land north of Wall Street—in what is now considered the tip of Manhattan. The island was dotted with "boweries," as the Dutch settlers called their farms, waving with wheat and corn, or riddled with beloved Dutch cabbage. Where long haired poets and the bohemians of Greenwich Village dwell was a great plantation green with tobacco. Practically every farm had its blackhouse, to which settlers might flee when from the hills came the war whom.

CHAPTER XVIII—Continued

Connemara never knew how long she stood immobile, scarcely daring to draw a breath, crucified against the wall. It seemed untold ages, but it was probably only about thirty seconds before she came to her senses and realized what had really happened. The opening of the door had created a draft from the open windows in her room and that draft had merely slammed the door shut with a bang. What an idiot she had been not to close it quietly behind her! In spite of the explanation, she remained quite still, counting her heart beats, and waiting for Salt, Bing, Mr. Brewster, Aunt Celmena, and Sweetie to emerge from their respective bedrooms.

To her amazement, no one came out to join her. The violent slamming of a door, closed by the wind, is not a half-heard sound, arousing breath-held speculation. Like the elevated trains that rattle by open tenement windows, it is so familiar that it often fails to arouse a nearby sleeper. That is what had happened in this case, and even if Salt and Bing had heard the crash, philosophic sloth would tell them the same door cannot slam shut twice. The burglar, or murderer, or worse, she had heard below would naturally reason along the same lines—namely, that there was nothing to worry about in the mere slamming of a door.

Connemara realized that in silence—absolute silence—lay her one chance. She strove to still her heart beats and the infinitesimal rustling caused by the strained rise and fall of her agitated breast. She knew

She stepped forward and launched herself at Sweetie.

It was a game of sheer patience. If she could keep still long enough, the marauder, becoming reassured, would take heart from the fact that he inmates of the house were such sound or callous sleepers, and would presently proceed with whatever he had been doing.

Waiting became an agony, for she did not dare even to lower her arms, but in the end she had her reward. Someone was certainly moving about in the great hallway below—someone who had to make sure of his ground by much groping before each stealthy step. Connemara had read somewhere that only the swift are silent. Transforming the thought into action, she stepped boldly forward, laid her hand surely on the banister and passed swiftly down the stairs.

At their foot she halted. In spite of a pale shaft of light through one pane of the variegated fanlight, she could discern nothing in the black shadows on either side. But in that tense moment she learned that there are more than five senses. As surely as if she could see or feel it, she knew that a living, breathing body was crouched within ten feet of her nose. Again came the call to her nerves for utter quiet. Steadying herself against the newel post, she stood rigidly, her ears alert, her thin nostrils distended.

While she held her body under absolute control, she could not keep her mind from leaping into frenzied action. Her brain began to hum like a racing engine. What should she do? Ought she to scream? What if, when people rushed down and turned on a blaze of light, they should find her in a mackintosh, a nightie, and pink bare feet, face to face with Bing or Salt in their B. V. D.'s—for she knew they had brought no pajamas. Suddenly her brain stopped racing and began to hum normally. She turned deadly calm. Her nostrils opened and closed, opened and closed. She had smelt a faint, familiar odor which could not have come from Salt, nor Bing, nor Lacy, nor Pooch, nor McTish—least of all from Aunt Celmena. It was the smell of face powder—cheap face powder.

Her thoughts turned to Sweetie, the guttersnipe whom she had befriended against all reason, and just as they did so her eyes perceived a small head silhouetted against the one live pane of the fanlight. Never had she seen a poise more packed with malevolence. It was like a cobra's head, rearing to strike.

But why this sudden and inexplicable change in Sweetie? And then, hard on the wonder, came a flash of illumination. The lost fifty thousand dollars! It was Sweetie who had removed the money from the hole Bugle had dug last night on the beach. Sweetie admitted that she had followed Lacy from the Filomena along the shore. It was not only possible, then, but probable that she had witnessed Connemara's impulsive act in burying the money.

From the level of the unseen shoulders two clawlike hands crept up into the light. They were quivering; evil, eager, as if already they were savoring the feel of the soft throat of an enemy. So it was to be woman to woman, thought Connemara grimly.

However, she did not wait to be attacked. Taking advantage of the momentary spotlight, she stepped forward and launched herself at Sweetie. She had hoped to pinion the girl's arms and at the same time carry her by sheer weight and the impetus of the onslaught to the floor, where she could gag her with a fessel and bind her with a rope from one of the old-fashioned portieres. But she had counted out her chicken before it had begun to hatch. From the beginning, and especially when decked out in David's nattiest yachting clothes, Sweetie had seemed a pitifully frail figure, threatened with consumption. What, then, was Connemara's amazement to find she had embraced a whirling roll of barbed wire!

Quite aside from knowing even more ways of fighting than Connemara's eyes had sampled since the moment of leaving the Bayville ferry—how many years ago!—Sweetie brought into play a quiver full of poisoned darts in the form of a string of whispered epithets and exclamations so outrageously stupefying that as each one hit her ears Connemara could not help but wince with horror and stop to gasp, "Oh!"

This supersensitiveness all but cost her the battle, but fortunately for her, as the writhing bodies of the two girls twisted and turned up and down the length of the slippery runner rug which led to the front doorway, weight began to tell. Sweetie soon found she could waste none of her breath if she was to overcome or even to escape from her adversary. At no stage of the game had she refrained from using her teeth and nails, and now fury made her redoubtable. Such dirty tactics would, long since have given her the victory had it not been for the chance which had led Connemara to put on the flexible armor plate of a heavy mackintosh rather than a flimsy kimono.

More than once she had reason to send up a breathless vow of thanks to the Providence which had guided her choice. She could feel sharp teeth sinking into her shoulder, pressing viciously, and then coming to a stop just short of pain or even a pinch. They warned her, however, to hold her adversary in an unbroken clench if she would avoid losing a thumb or an ear.

Staggering with exhaustion the squirming mass of arms and legs had just reached the further end of the hall when it toppled and fell with Connemara on top. In all her life she had never known such an overwhelming surge of triumph. At last she had her enemy down. The Swede's gang would never see that money now. She planted her knees on Sweetie's chest, and clutching her wrists, strove to bring them together so that she might hold them for an instant with one hand while she reached for a portiere cord with the other.

"You pink-headed wart!" snarled Sweetie gaspingly. "You big rec cow!"

A TREMENDOUS PRICE REDUCTION

On January 7th, 1926, Dodge Brothers, Incorporated, will announce a tremendous reduction in the prices of their complete line of motor cars.

These reductions will apply on all cars bought after midnight, December 15th, 1925.

When the new prices are made known on January 7th, the full amount of the reductions will be immediately refunded to all purchasers since December 15th.

These revolutionary reductions are made possible by a recently completed ten million dollar expansion program—new buildings and equipment that will nearly double the capacity of Dodge Brothers factories in 1926.

There is no change in the policy upon which Dodge Brothers established their leadership eleven years ago—the policy of constant improvement without yearly models.

FOREIGNERS COME
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Armand Massey, France; and Arthur Campston, England; the greatest golfers in the United States this month to compete for American honors. Both are exceptional golfers and the followers of the game expect to see some interesting games when the foreigners meet the Americans.

WILL RESIN RETURN?
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The National league is preparing to launch a strong effort to have baseball rules amended so that pitchers may use resin on the ball, at the meeting of the joint rules committee next month. The American league is preparing to buck the move, stating that the use of resin would allow a loophole for the use of anything.

TOD MORGAN WRITES
Tod Morgan, champion junior lightweight of the world, has turned journalist as a side light to his ring career. Morgan covered the Oakland fights, Wednesday night and the next day blossomed forth with a "string" detailed story of the happenings among the knights of the squared circle. He will write regularly, it was announced yesterday.

NEW SYSTEM
Numerous means of pleasing the majority of the fight fans have been tried with more or less success, but the idea of Billy Darnley of Oakland is the newest along this line. He leaves the decision to the audience. On one occasion he gave a decision to one fighter, but upon hearing boos he called the fight a draw. It is said he was right at first.

PULLMAN FIVE DEFEATS S. O. IN HARD GAME

PULLMAN SHOPS... SPORTS
A majority of the basketball games, seen in Richmond are seen and promptly forgotten. But the game last night that might rightfully be termed a classic between the Pullman shops and the Standard Oil No. 1 five will live for years in the memory of the fans.
Starting from the first whistle both teams threw everything they had into the conflict in an effort to gain an early advantage. It was of no avail as both teams were evenly matched. Gradually the Pullmans pulled away from their opponents and at the end of the half they led 13 to 8. Then in the last half they ran up a score of 24 to their opponents 12. This ended one of the greatest games ever seen in the Roosevelt gymnasium.
Personal fouls were frequent on both sides but more particularly on the part of the Standards. However not one foul was intentional as the men were playing on the best terms and all exhibited wonderful sportsmanship in the heat of battle.
Dulley, forward, and Gadberr, center, were the best basket shooters of their team although they were backed up with iron strength by their team mates. They scored 8 and 7 points respectively.
Following are the lineups and the scores of each man: Pullman: Kamb, f. 4; Dalley, f. 3; Gadberr, c. 7; Cornell, g. 2; Kamb, g. 3.
Standard: Hutton, f. 4; Peters, f. 2; Swallish, f. 2; Bonham, c. 2; Huzetka, c. 0; Vargas, g. 2; Pasasch, g. 0.
The result of this game puts the shop team in first place with a percentage of 100 while the Standard Oil quintet drops to second place.

SANTA FE BEATEN
In the "curtain" raised the Santa Fe team was defeated by the Telephone company quintet of Oakland using several local players during the first half. The final score was 18 to 16 in favor of the visitors, which indicates the tightness of the game. Although it was not as fast and furious as the main game of the evening the men worked hard and provided many thrills for the well filled bleachers.
Following are the lineups and the scores of each man: Santa Fe: Vierra, f. 8; Bernadew, f. 6; Arthur, c. 0; Coakley, g. 0; Prinsmith, g. 2; Grande, g. 0.
Telephone Company: Haar, f. 0; Huzetka, f. 8; Dehal, f. 0; Chattelet, c. 5; Lawler, c. 3; Malley, g. 0; Irish, g. 2; Jones, g. 0; Vineyard, g. 0.

YOUTH SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS IN THE COUNTY JAIL

RED GRANGE TO PLAY ON COAST

Football fans of the East Bay will have an opportunity to see Red Grange carry the ball Sunday, January 24, at either Ewing Field, Kezar Memorial stadium, or Recreation Baseball park, according to an announcement made by C. C. Pyle, manager of Grange. Dr. R. Hollingberry and M. S. Cowen, after an all day conference at the Palace hotel yesterday, it is understood that Hollingberry who attained fame as coach of the 1925 Olympic club eleven, will organize and coach the team that will meet Grange's Chicago Bears. It is not known just what Grange, Pyle or the Chicago Bears have been guaranteed at their "end" as those handling the affair refused to state the sum.
Top price of admission will be $3 and it is possible that the other seats will be offered at $1 and $2.
Hollingberry stated that he did not have one man signed on the team yet, but it appears certain that several California stars will turn professional or Hollingberry and Cowen will lose the guarantee they are certain to have advanced to Pyle.

TO PLAY IN L. A.

Postal Employees Will Have First Real Christmas

If Postmaster General New has his way about it, Christmas Day this year is going to be the biggest and the best for all the employees of the postal service and especially for the ever-faithful letter carriers.
He has issued orders to postmasters throughout the country that their offices will be closed all day Christmas, except for the dispatch of special delivery letters and parcels and special handling letters and parcels.

In order that the vast army of carriers and clerks may enjoy Christmas Day to the fullest extent with their families and friends the cooperation of every man, woman and child in the United States will be necessary.
Under the leadership of the Postmaster General, a campaign is now under way throughout the country to install into the minds of everybody the necessity for shopping and mailing early in order that there will be as little congestion at the post offices as possible during Christmas week and in order that both the sender and receiver of gifts and remembrances may reap the happiness that is contemplated by such an exchange of presents.

Once more the Post Office Department urges the American public to do its Christmas shopping and mailing early. If the shopping is done now the buyer gets just what he or she wants.
Night hawks are usually out for a lark—and a chicken or two.

Then they use high powered SALESMANSHIP to sell you something "BETTER". Our policy is to make only the BEST GRADE that we can possibly make and make our prices so low the year 'round that we CAN'T cut them.

MANY THRILLS IN PICTURE AT CALIFORNIA

If you want to get all the thrills and excitement of betting on a horse race—and be certain of not losing any money, even if you back a loser—go to see "The Wheel," the William Fox picture which opens at the California theatre today.

For you won't be backing a loser if you put your money on "The Wheel" itself! And therein you will differ from Ted Morlon, hero of the story, whose money dissolved into thin air whenever he placed it on a turn of the roulette wheel in Tom Baker's gambling establishment.

Victor Schertzinger, in this, his first picture under the Fox banner, has never done a better piece of direction, Efrid Bingham wrote the scenario and Montague Glass, creator of Fats and Perlmutter wrote the titles.

Harrison Ford and Claire Adams two celebrated leading players, are the chief actors of this picture. Both will win a host of new fans by their excellent interpretations of their roles.

In the second leads are to be seen Mahlon Hamilton and Margaret Livingston and each lives up to the full requirements of the story. In support are David Torrence, George Harris, Julia Swayne Gordon, and Clara Horton. Other features include "Varieties"; "A Parisian Knight", and

Justice Roth Celebrates His 79th Birthday

Justice of the Peace John Roth, who has dispensed justice with a fair and impartial hand for the last 17 years, celebrated his 79th birthday yesterday. Judge Roth was at his old post yesterday morning and did not let the occasion interfere with his duties.

Justice and Mrs. Roth will leave December 20 for Los Angeles where they will visit a son who is a physician in connection with the Los Angeles city health department. The Roths will stop at Tulare to visit another son.

Justice Roth was born in Pennsylvania in 1846 but has spent the greater part of his life in California.

Light Installed To Assist Local Police Officers

A huge 500-watt, circular Fresnel lamp was yesterday installed on the top of the city hall to augment the Richmond Police department's signal system. The lamp is so large that it can be seen from all parts of the city within a radius of from three to five miles.

The signal light on the city hall will be connected with the Macdonald avenue, Pullman and West Side signal circuits and will be flashed whenever a burglary or other offense is reported to the police. This will signal for any patrolman to call the central station and he will thus be able to reach the scene with the least possible loss of time.

Plans Complete For Xmas Party

Plans were completed at the meeting of Richmond Temple, No. 86, Pythian Sisters, in Pythian Castle last night for this temple's participation in the big Christmas program and entertainment to be given on next Wednesday night in Pythian Castle by The Knights of Pythias, the two Pythian Sisters Lodges and the Boy Scouts of Troop No. 4, sponsored by the Pythians. The Richmond Vocallans are to put on the program which will consist of many vocal numbers in keeping with the Christmas season.

Most excellent Chief Louise Spinney presided over the meeting, at which nomination of officers was held and regular business transacted. The election of officers will be held on December 31.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA AT SAN PABLO CHURCH

Suspended From Rank, Pay Stops

however, and smiled and chatted with friends and court attaches.

There is no appeal from the dict of the courtmartial, as, in the case in civil law, although the punishment to be meted out to the flying colonel may be softened by either the secretary of war or the President.

It has been rumored on numerous occasions that if the court dealt drastically with Mitchell, the sentence would be ameliorated by President Coolidge out of regard to the popular support that has been accorded Mitchell from many parts of the country.

The conviction itself, irrespective of the penalty is regarded as satisfying the ends of army discipline.

There is, of course, no confirmation to be had of these rumors. So far as known, President Coolidge has expressed no opinion on the case, although in various communications to Congress he has indicated his lack of sympathy with the air service reforms that Mitchell has been agitating.

Of course, it is what we expected, Mitchell knew what would happen when he issued the statements, said Representative Frank R. Reid, Republican of Illinois, defense counsel.

In a speedy climax to one of the most sensational trials in military history, the jury decided that Mitchell was guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and prejudicial to good order and military discipline.

The verdict was announced by Major General Robert L. Howze, president of the court. It had been anticipated by the crowded courtroom and there was little demonstration.

The jury took the case at 3:33 o'clock.

The trial ended after Major Allen Guillon and Colonel Sherman Moreland, of the prosecuting staff had spent practically the entire day denouncing Mitchell and declaring that his charges were unfounded.
